Customized Employment

Thursday, January 11, 2018

7:00-8:00 pm. Doors open at 6:45 pm.

Stewartstown Elementary School*, 17945 Barren Road North, Stewartstown, PA 17363

Join us for an evening of information and discussion surrounding Customized Employment and current available funding for individuals interested in joining the workforce with guest speaker Julie Rasmuson.

Customized Employment is focused on gaining employment for individuals with disabilities by paying particular attention to their individual interests, skills, and conditions for work. The customized employment process is designed to match the identified contributions and skills of a job seeker with an employer's needs. This is the current trend in job development in the State of Pennsylvania.

Julie Rasmuson is a Certified Customized Employment Specialist and Certified Job Developer as well as an Education Inclusion Specialist with The Arc of Pennsylvania. She has two children of her own and serves on the Board of Autism York.

Autism York will be serving light refreshments, and a door prize will be given away! No RSVP necessary. Our meetings are held on the first Thursday of the month September-November and January-May.

Child care is provided by at least two professional staff who are experienced with children on the autism spectrum. When possible, children will be separated into two different rooms by age groups. We encourage older children to bring handheld games, books or homework. Autism York will not assume responsibility for any lost or broken devices. If a child exhibits behaviors that are not easily redirected by the staff, parents may be called from the meeting to come help their child.
